Main Assets

HYALURONIC ACID

Possesses moisturizing, firming and plumping properties. Helps the skin stay young by improving its degree hydration and elasticity. Helps counteract the formation of wrinkles. Obtained from natural biotechnological fermentation, this molecule has the extraordinary ability to capture and bind water in a deeper and physiological way, to the point of becoming the molecule of choice in subcutaneous filler treatments (ingredient allowed in Cosmos certified organic products). Its main cosmetic action is hydrating and the ability to make the skin more toned, healthy and protected. At the same time it has an effective anti-wrinkle and anti-aging action. The high acid's purity degree selected in this product makes it particularly effective and safe, as well as the choice of its PM (750 kDa), which allows greater penetrability and a prolonged action over time. It gives immediate hydration to the skin, it has a protective action and makes it smoother and more toned.

PHITOSPHERIX

Phyto-glycogen comes from a Canadian green technology. It is dermatologically tested, non-irritating and hypoallergenic. It boasts important anti-aging and moisturizing effects, amplified when combined with hyaluronic acid. Studies show that Phytosperix is used as a source of energy for the skin cells. It is also involved in the synthesis of skin lipids, making it firmer and more elastic.

HORDEUM VULGARE STEM WATER

A blend characterized by distilled water of Ecocert certified barley. Thanks to a delicate extracting method, such as the steam distillation, it preserves the natural sweetness and harmony of the barley. The properties of this blend are soothing and antioxidant, counteract the natural aging of the skin and the damage of free radicals.

WATER EXTRACT FROM GOJI BERRIES

Plant native to the Far East, it grows spontaneously in China, Tibet and Mongolia. It has interesting active ingredients such as flavonoids, polysaccharides and carotenoids that determine the cosmetic and dermo-functional properties of this ancient plant. The aqueous extract has softening and refreshing properties.

PRICKLY PEAR OIL

Plant originally from Brazil imported to Italy in 1500, where it has become well acclimatized, especially in the south. These leaves contain high concentrations of mineral salts (calcium, potassium, manganese) and vitamins A and C. They also contain enviable quantities of unsaturated fatty acids, polyphenols and sterols that give firming and restructuring capabilities. Its precious components make it capable of acting in a targeted manner as a natural anti-aging, suitable for skin aging.
